

The area to the north was annexed in 1926, which was the southern edge of the community until the Research Park was developed in 2000. As the research park developed, this strip was never annexed to the community.

