The annual salary would be $29,500 on a twelve-month basis.

Professor McCluney will succeed Dean Glenn Terrell who has resigned as of July 28, 1967, to accept the presidency of Washington State University.

The Chancellor's recommendation was made after consultation with the Chancellor's Advisory Council,¹ a special consultative committee appointed by the Chancellor,² and an ad hoc committee chosen by the Chicago Circle Senate to advise the Chancellor on the nomination of a Dean of Faculties.³

PROGRAM FOR STUDY IN EUROPE FOR STUDENTS IN ARCHITECTURE

(8) On November 10, 1966, the Board approved a program for study in Europe for students in architecture. The program has been in operation since January 1, 1967, at the Chateau of LaNapoule in southern France; however, the arrangement with the LaNapoule Art Foundation for the use of these facilities terminated June 1, 1967.

The Department of Architecture considers the program successful and desires to continue with it. The termination of the agreement with the LaNapoule Art Foundation requires that other arrangements be developed. Mr. Pierre Lachaux, a French citizen, will lease living quarters, office space, and a newly constructed studio in LaNapoule for the period October 1, 1967, to May 31, 1968, at $6,000, with an option to renew for the next academic year. Under the proposed lease, Mr. Lachaux will provide space to conduct the program, office space, living quarters, and pay the cost of utilities and taxes. The participating students have agreed to provide financial support to a maximum of $100 per student for the program. This support will provide the funds for the lease.

Instruction at LaNapoule would be given by four members of the Department. The instructional load would be eleven full-time equivalent students per instructor, which is slightly higher than that for junior-level students in architecture at Urbana-Champaign. The total costs of instruction will not exceed those at Urbana-Champaign so far as the expenditure of state funds is concerned. Students would incur approximately the same living costs as they presently do at the Urbana campus, plus travel and personal expenses.

The Dean of the College of Fine and Applied Arts and the Executive Vice-President and Provost recommend the continuation of this program, with authorization for the Vice-President and Comptroller to execute such contracts as may be necessary.

I concur.

On motion of Mr. Jones, this recommendation was approved.

REORGANIZATION OF LIBRARY ADMINISTRATION

(9) On April 19, 1967, the Board of Trustees approved, provisionally, a modification of Section 19 of the University of Illinois Statutes to provide for a reorganization in the administration of the libraries of the University and, in accordance with the Statutes, asked for advice of the Faculty Senates on each campus.

Each Senate² has concurred in the general policy proposals as provisionally approved. The complete text of the program appears in the minutes of the meeting of April 19, 1967.

Therefore, I now recommend final approval of these recommendations and modification of Section 19 of the University of Illinois Statutes to reflect the changes adopted.

² The Chicago Circle Senate has requested future clarification with respect to composition of the proposed University Council of Libraries and with respect to the function of the Senate Library Committee; this request will receive administrative attention. Nevertheless, the Chicago Circle Senate indicated, "Above all, however, we are concerned that the proposed reorganization of library administration be not delayed, and we place highest priority upon its adoption."

On motion of Mr. Swain, this recommendation and the proposed revision of Section 19 of the University of Illinois Statutes were approved by the following vote: Aye, Mr. Clement, Mr. Grimes, Mr. Hahn, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Johnston, Mr. Jones, Mr. Pogue, Mr. Swain; no, none; absent, Governor Kerner, Mr. Page, Dr. Weatherly.

STATEMENT ON THE DEAN OF STUDENTS

(10) At this point, President Johnston recognized President Henry for a statement on the Dean of Students.

I take this occasion to express to the Board of Trustees my high regard for the way Dean Stanton Millet has conducted his office and for the manner in which he has represented the University in the areas of his responsibilities.

Dr. Millet's first year as Dean of Students at the Urbana-Champaign campus coincided with a period of unprecedented student protests. These protests and criticism ranged from sincere and constructive efforts to change University regulations and practices in regular channels to picketing and "sit-ins" some of which appear to have been organized for the purpose of confrontation rather than deliberation or problem-solving. In the course of these activities, Dean Millet has been subjected to unjustified personal criticism and careless misrepresentation of his views and of the nature of his duties.

Throughout the year, Dean Millet has met criticism with composure and unfounded allegations with analysis and reason. Further, he has taken the initiative in improving communication among all segments of the University community and given leadership to improvements in procedures and practices where changes have appeared to be justified.

Because a good deal of the year has been spent in meeting with individuals and groups beyond those officially assigned to duties in organized student relations and to dealing with problems and situations raised by the organized protest activities, consideration of some of the earlier plans for improving relationships have been delayed.

I hope that Dean Millet will have the opportunity in 1967-68 to explore and carry out a number of the plans which he has had in mind. I have asked him to take a few minutes at the meeting today to make some observations on the work of his office during the next year.

Dean Millet in response made the following comments:

A few weeks ago, a student asked me what I thought was my greatest personal accomplishment during the year. I answered, "Survival." But if he had asked me to assess the accomplishments of the campus in general, I would have said that 1966-67 was, in my view, among the most significant of our first hundred years. The faculty, the administration, and the students have begun to question the nature of our University, to explore the meaning of student affairs as a part of higher education, and to set forth certain rights, hopes, and principles that will be of paramount importance to the University in its next hundred years. The discussion has been abrasive, unsettling, but in the final analysis, vital to our life as a place of learning.

First, we have argued the question of academic freedom for students. What is at issue has not always been clear, for the principle itself is unfamiliar — though not really new. The German universities of the nineteenth century, from whom we derive much of our character, asserted the value not only of Lehrfreiheit — the traditional academic freedom of professors — but also of Lehrenfreiheit, the freedom of students to pursue their education largely in their own way. We adopted the first of these; the second has escaped us until very recently.

What our students are now demanding is not the freedom of the professor to teach his subject according to his own lights, but the freedom of the students to discuss publicly the most controversial issues, and to hear committed advocates of positions that may appear outrageous, amoral, or subversive. There is no question about the right to hear committed advocates when they are placed in a clearly academic context, with opportunities for rational discourse. The professor may invite to his classroom whomever he chooses, and none will criticize. But a question is raised when a student group invites, for example, the leader of the American Nazi Party, or an advocate of free love, LSD, or marijuana, or someone who plans to recite the sayings of Chairman Mao. These types of presentation have an impact that is less intellectual than visceral. As such, they may appear alien to the academic way of life, and they are fearfully rejected. Whereupon we arrive at a curious impasse. The administration, arguing from the traditional definition of academic freedom, asserts that there are no limitations on rational discourse on this campus — and they are right. But the students, arguing from a different conception of freedom, assert that their right to learn, and even their right of free speech, has been denied.

In the year ahead, we shall certainly be engaged with this question. Personally, I believe that there is educational benefit in exposure to those with different commitments — even to eccentric or anti-social causes. I am confident students can judge better than we have previously supposed, and I hope that the limits that are set, if any, will be flexible and unobtrusive.

A second major issue is social freedom. It has become increasingly clear that the day of an effective role for the university in loco parentis is dead. Our students are not boys and girls, but men and women. Student government is not controlled play, preparing leaders for real life. It is real life, concerned with real problems of citizenship that are crucial to the life of the university and the nation. In common with other colleges and universities, we have tended to bind students with a network of rules and regulations. During the past year, however, in such matters as women's hours and general housing regulations, we have begun to transfer to students some of the responsibility that should properly be theirs. They have accepted these responsibilities with a degree of maturity and common sense that would have astounded us ten years ago. In the year ahead, through cooperation with a strong student government, I am confident that this transfer of responsibility will continue steadily — as it should.

Finally, in the year ahead, as in the year just past, we will be deeply concerned with finding ways to make each student's residence on this campus an integral part of his education. During the last semester, we have had a modest program in which faculty members have associated themselves informally with an undergraduate residence hall. Beginning in September, we will extend this program of faculty associates, and add to it a language house, a plan for the effective assignment of honors students, a plan for bringing together students of similar intellectual interests, for scheduling the residents of certain houses in a few of the same classes, and for teaching some introductory courses in the residence halls. To these will be added opportunities for independent study, and hopefully, a means of providing academic advising in residence halls.

The new directions we derive from the experiments will enable us to realize the full potential of a residential campus, and to give to undergraduate life a focus and coherence that are needed in a large university.

In this and other areas, we will be concerning ourselves with the affairs of the finest groups of young men and women this University has ever had enrolled. I am confident that we will meet the challenges they present. From meeting new problems, we will derive new strength; and from new questions, new definitions of the role of our University.

RECOMMENDATION FROM COMMITTEE ON COPYRIGHTS AND RECORDINGS

(32) The Committee on Copyrights and Recordings has reviewed a request from the College of Education that a contract be negotiated with Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., for the publication of a book based on instructional materials developed by the Curriculum Laboratory's English Project. It is proposed that the publishing company advance funds to the University amounting to $19,640 for the payment of the salaries of individuals who would complete the manuscript — such advance to be deducted from royalty earnings on sales of the book.

In the light of its review, the Committee on Copyrights and Recordings makes the following recommendations:

1. That a contract be negotiated with Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., for the publication of such a volume, with the copyright to be held in the name of the publisher.
2. That Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., provide funds to the University in the estimated amount of $19,640, which would be used for the payment of salaries to individuals who would complete the work on the manuscript. This advance would be deducted from royalty earnings under the contract before any royalty payments would be made in accordance with the provisions of item (3).
3. That royalty payments of 10 per cent on sales would be made as follows, after the advance payment referred to in item (2) had been recovered by the company: 8 per cent to the University and 2 per cent (1 per cent each) to the two staff members who have worked on the project and who would complete the preparation of the manuscript for publication.

The Executive Vice-President and Provost and the Vice-President and Comptroller endorse these recommendations.

I concur.

On motion of Mr. Clement, these recommendations were approved.

ESTATE OF EUGENE S. BOERNER

(33) Under the will of Eugene S. Boerner, 80 per cent of the stock he owned in Jackson & Perkins Company was bequeathed to Cornell University and 20 per cent to the University of Illinois. The bequests are contingent upon the institutions creating a separate endowment fund in the name of Eugene S. Boerner, with the income from the fund to be used either for the establishment of a professional chair or scholarships in the name of Eugene S. Boerner.

It is further provided in the will that the stock in Jackson & Perkins Company might be sold during the lifetime of the deceased or at the time of his death be subject to a contract of sale, but in either event the proceeds from such a sale would be the source for the endowment fund.

Mr. Boerner's stock was under contract of sale at the time of his death and, pursuant to the terms of the will, the executor has proceeded with the terms of a stock purchase agreement. Under this agreement, Mr. Boerner's stock as well as the stock of the other shareholders, has been transferred to another corporation as purchaser. The stock purchase agreement provides for payment of cash and deferred interest-bearing payments maturing in 1981, these latter payments to be affected by adjustments from time to time based upon certain representations and warranties agreed to by shareholders of Jackson & Perkins Company.

The executor advises that the University of Illinois share should approximate $59,000 plus interest. However, this figure is subject to the adjustments and estate costs referred to above.

In accord with the requirements of Mr. Boerner's will, the executor has requested that The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois adopt a resolution under which the University agrees to abide by all of the terms and conditions respecting this bequest. If either of the universities fail to formally accept the legacy, the other becomes the full recipient of this bequest.

I recommend acceptance of the bequest and adoption of the following resolution.

Resolution

WHEREAS the University of Illinois is a beneficiary under the Last Will and Testament of Eugene S. Boerner, Deceased, and

WHEREAS the Deceased bequeathed 20 per cent of his stock in Jackson & Perkins Company to the University of Illinois, which stock has been transferred to the Harry and David Corporation under a stock purchase agreement, dated August 13, 1966, and

WHEREAS the Deceased expressed a desire for the stock or the proceeds thereof to be used by the University of Illinois to establish a professorial chair devoted to the research, development and general educational studies relating to roses, or, for scholarships to students doing major work in the development, culture and pathology of roses, and

WHEREAS the Executor has requested the University of Illinois to expressly and specifically accept this request;

Now Therefore, be it resolved by The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois, a public corporation of the State of Illinois, that the bequest made to this public corporation under the Last Will and Testament of Eugene S. Boerner, be and it hereby is, accepted upon the terms and conditions set forth in the Will; and

Be It Further Resolved by this Board of Trustees that the Comptroller, H. O. Farber, and the Secretary, Earl W. Porter, of this corporation be, and they hereby are, authorized and directed, to execute in the name of and on behalf of, this corporation such documents and to take such other action in connection therewith as said Comptroller and Secretary may deem to be necessary or desirable to evidence or show the acceptance of such bequest by this corporation and to execute the conveyance of title to, and the transfer of possession of the assets thereof to this public corporation.

On motion of Mr. Swain, the foregoing resolution was adopted.

CONTRACTS FOR FEASIBILITY STUDY PHASE OF THOMSON SCATTER RADAR

(39) Acting on behalf of the Committee on Institutional Cooperation (C.I.C.), an association of eleven midwestern universities, the University of Illinois has undertaken to examine the feasibility of constructing in the Midwest a large radar system for study of the earth's upper atmosphere by the Thomson scatter technique.

The National Science Foundation has provided funds for the preliminary study phases of the project.

Sealed bid proposals were solicited on the preliminary feasibility study phase covering two separate concepts, (1) a radome enclosed, and (2) an environmental design, from six firms having wide experience in the study and design of large scale antenna equipment. Four proposals were received, two submitted for each concept, and were evaluated by a selection panel composed of the professorial staff of the project with the assistance of Simpson, Gumpertz & Heger, Inc., Cambridge, Massachusetts, a firm of consulting engineers. The individual proposals were judged on the firm's capabilities in four categories: (1) competence, (2) technology, (3) approach, and (4) scope.

The Dean of the College of Engineering and the Vice-President and Comptroller recommend that two contracts be awarded, one for each concept study, as follows:

Radome enclosed concept—The Rohr Corporation, Chula Vista, California.....	$15 000 00
Environmental concept—Amman & Whitney, New York, New York	19 000 00
I concur.

On motion of Mr. Swain, these contracts were awarded by the following vote: Aye, Mr. Clement, Mr. Grimes, Mr. Hahn, Mr. Hughes, Mr. Johnston, Mr. Jones, Mr. Pogue, Mr. Swain; no, none; absent, Governor Kerner, Mr. Page, Dr. Weatherly.

The income therefrom only shall be used."

The trustee under the Will has advised the University that the contingencies specified in the document have occurred and it is now prepared to distribute the $100,000 to the University on the conditions stated, provided it is furnished with a resolution by the Board of Trustees accepting the bequest. Accordingly, I recommend acceptance of the bequest and the adoption of the following resolution.
