Approve Tuition Rates, Academic Year 2022-2023; Approve Student Fees for Urbana, Chicago, and Springfield, Academic Year 2022-2023; and Approve Rate Changes for University-Operated Housing Facilities, Urbana, Chicago, and Springfield, Academic Year 2022-2023

Ms. Craig Schilling then asked Dr. Ghosh to provide information on the recommendations to approve tuition rates for Academic Year 2022-2023; approve student fees for Urbana, Chicago, and Springfield for Academic Year 2022-2023; and approve rate changes for University-operated housing facilities at Urbana, Chicago, and Springfield for Academic Year 2022-2023. Dr. Ghosh gave a presentation (materials on file with the secretary) to provide background on these recommendations and referred to the commitment across the University System to provide access for Illinois students, to keep education affordable, and to ensure quality of education. He provided data on Illinois residents attending the universities and said they serve more in-state students than their peers. Dr. Ghosh noted that tuition was frozen in six out of the last seven years and referred to the four-year tuition guarantee. He discussed financial aid and highlighted the University System’s increase in system-level aid, and he told the committee that 30 percent of resident undergraduate students pay no tuition or fees. Dr. Ghosh noted that this number will increase in Academic Year 2021-2022 due to the Illinois Commitment. He then showed the percentage of students who pay less than full tuition and fees at each university. Next, Dr. Ghosh compared tuition and fees at each university to their peer institutions and said they are moving closer to the middle each year.

Dr. Ghosh reiterated the goal of protecting access, affordability, and academic quality and competitiveness and discussed additional considerations for determining the proposed tuition rate. He said the proposed rate includes a 1.8 percent increase at Urbana and Chicago and a 1.5 percent increase at Springfield, all of which are sub-inflationary. Dr. Ghosh then presented the proposed tuition rate for non-resident undergraduate students, graduate programs, professional programs, and online programs.

Next, Dr. Ghosh discussed student fees and assessments and referred to the process for setting student fees, which are reviewed by committees that include student representatives. He said that the student health insurance fee and transportation fee at Chicago and the student health insurance fee at Springfield have not yet been determined. He showed that the recommended student fees and assessments include a 1.63 percent increase at Urbana, a 1.54 percent increase at Chicago, and a 1 percent increase at Springfield. Dr. Ghosh showed the proposed basic rates for undergraduate room and board at each university, with a 1.8 percent increase at Urbana, a 3.2 percent increase at Chicago, and no increase at Springfield. He said these are comparable to those at peer institutions.

President Killeen emphasized the University’s commitment to Illinois students and families. He referred to the current high rate of inflation and said the proposed tuition rate is the result of extensive conversations. Dr. Ghosh said the University’s contributions to financial aid demonstrate its commitment to affordability, and he reminded the committee that this proposed sub-inflationary increase would impact new, incoming students and not students currently attending the universities. Ms. Craig Schilling asked if there were any additional comments or questions from trustees, and Dr. King opined that students with health insurance should be able to opt out of paying the health service fee. Ms. Craig Schilling thanked Dr. Ghosh for the presentation and recognized him and many others involved in the process of recommending tuition and fees at the University for exercising due diligence and prudent fiscal discipline. She commented on the impact of establishing tuition rates and fees on Illinois families, expressed appreciation for the University’s contributions to financial aid and scholarships, and asked that the University continue to find creative ways to continue to make education affordable while delivering on the promise of educational excellence. Ms. Jakobsson commended those at the University, as well as those serving on the Board, who made it a priority to not raise tuition for several years, especially in consideration of the four-year guaranteed tuition rate.

There was no objection to the items listed above being forwarded to the Board for approval.

OLD BUSINESS
Ms. Craig Schilling asked if there was any old business. She told the committee that she has requested that a presentation be made at a future meeting on the future of the university libraries.
